THE COPPER CORNER

MAY, JUNE, JULY 2014 List #76 ----- "Something for Everyone"
18th Century "CONDER" TOKENS-----17TH Century tokens—19th Century tokens
Silver tokens, Unofficial Farthings, Medals, medalets, unusual historical items----

Hello, friends---May already!! Well, it really seems about time for it, with the winter many had. Ready to go outside and enjoy life. Digging the old cars out of the snowbank, and ready to go. As for the tokens, they have taken a jump in price, the reason is easy to see. With the internet, there are more bidders in the auctions, and we poor dealers (sniff) just do not walk out with any bargains. In fact, if the token is really nice, it sells well over what was considered current retail. One sale a couple months back had a number of UNC common tokens sell at $265 each, on an estimate of $100-150!! So, not sure what is going on, but there is a lot of interest in good high grade pieces, and they do not seem to have to be rare. Prices have gone up on both sides of the pond. If a rarity, the price asked (and often obtained) is much higher than it has been.

I meant to have a few information pages on the CTCC web site. Rather got sidetracked by the latest project, the new edition of Dalton and Hamer. It is coming along, many have sent in lists of tokens that are not mentioned in D&H, new metals, new edges, new dies. One thing I do not need is information on gilt and silvered pieces, as they will not be in the addenda. Many of them are modern concoctions, thus not eligible. Most of the genuine ones can be told fairly well with practice, and you will meet most of them in the National series. Anyway, with my now one year old condition, which was found last May, and the book project, I simply have not lived up to what I was planning for the web site. It will be later this year before it can be looked at, and we could use some help in writing and arranging. If you have skills, in writing or in technology, working on a web site, would love to bring you on board as a member of the team. We have a really good team, but everyone has a lot to do already. It's your club, please volunteer for whatever you can.

I do hope you enjoy the list, helping build nice collections is fun for me. Bill
